March In Like a Lamb, Goes Out Like a Lion

Rainfall in the Quad-City area during March totaled only 1.7 inches, marking the third consecutive month of this year in which rainfall has been far below the normal. The normal fall for March is 2.34 inches. The recorded fall last month brought to 3.25 inches the total precipitation for the three months of this year, compared to a normal of 6.36 inches for the period.

In January, .54 of an inch fell compared to a normal of 1.88 inches, and in February, .99 of an inch fell, well below the 2.04 inch normal.

March did not live up to its reputation of coming in like a lion and going out like a lamb. It reversed that order by starting with 12 consecutive dry sunny days and ending with a period of rain and snow.

Heaviest precipitation during the month was March 15 when .58 of an inch of rain fell. Rainfall March 13 totaled .43 of an inch. On March 16, rainfall totaled .17 of an inch, and on March 22, .04 of an inch was recorded.

A mixture of rain and snow with cold temperatures began March 25 when .02 of an inch of rain and snow (water equivalent) fell here. A trace of snow was reported the following day.

On March 27, .27 of an inch of precipitation was recorded and a trace was noted the next day. Precipitation March 29 totaled .19 with a trace reported on the 30th. Snow too light to measure was reported March 31.

Should Aid to Schools Be Hiked $90 Million or $177 Million?

Copley News Service
Springfield—A battle is shaping up in the General Assembly over the current public school aid formula.

State School Supt. Michael J. Bicklin has criticized Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie's school aid proposal as "totally inadequate."

Ogilvie has said that he will allocate $1,083 billion to schools in the fiscal year beginning July 1, this he said, would be 9% or $90 million above what is allocated this year.

Meanwhile, Democrats in the General Assembly are saying the state should take up the local cost of school districts at a more rapid pace.

They maintain that the new state constitution points the way for the state to pick up a larger share of the local costs of public schools. They say in effect that the constitution itself says that eventually the state should pay virtually all of the local costs.

Bakalin when he unveiled his school aid proposal called for a $177 million increase in funds to be distributed to schools as part of a three-year program to raise the state level of support to at least 90%.

The School Problems Commission, headed by Rep. Gene L. Hoffman, R-Elmhurst, has been wrestling with the school aid problem. The Commission, made up of legislators and public members, has been conducting meetings in an effort to gain information on the school aid matter.

Just what the School Problems Commission recommendations in this area will be remains to be seen.

The school aid problem got into a hassle in the Senate during the last session. With Democrats and Republicans evenly split in that body, a fight was made to increase the state aid formula to school districts.

Old Cathedral Scene of Wilson-Schmidt Wedding

Miss Catherine Schmidt and Radarman Third Class Stuart R. Wilson, U.S. Navy, were united in marriage Saturday in a double ring ceremony at the Old Cathedral in St. Louis.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Schmidt, 2529 Grand Ave., and Mr. and Mrs. Marion E. Wilson, 1306 Twenty-seventh St.

The Rev. John J. Lang heard the vows of the couple at 12 o'clock noon in a spring setting created with bouquets of large orchid 'mums and white gladioli arranged on the altar. White satin bows marked the pews along the aisle.

Mrs. Virginia Curley presided at the organ, furnishing several selections, including "Blessed Be This Day". Ava Maria, "Marista Stillere" and Jesu Joy of Mans Desiring, prior to the arrival of the wedding party.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an elegantly styled gown of ivory satin and re-embroidered Alencon lace.

The fitted bodice, designed with a round neckline, was elaborately fashioned of lace over satin, traced with clusters of beading. The lace extended into a wide panel down the front of the skirt. Delicate motifs of lace capped the bishop sleeves at the shoulder, were repeated on the wide cuffs and edged the full chapel train.

A floor length veil was held in place by a garland of tiny silk organza flowers and the bride carried a nosegay of ivory silk organza rosebuds and baby breath, accented with pale chiffon forget-me-nots and ivory velvet streamers.

Preceding the bride down the white carpeted aisle were Miss Linda Smith, maid of honor and Miss Janet Wilson, a sister of the groom, Miss Donna Lucy and Miss Linda Schmidt, the bride's sister, bridesmaids.

The attendants wore identical gowns of orchid chiffon designed with long full sleeves and bodices of ivory lace woven with orchid ribbon. Rows of tucks and tiny covered buttons created an "old fashioned" look to their dresses.

Each girl wore violets in her hair and carried a nosegay of the same delicate purple flowers ried with orchid and ivory streamers.

Lisa Dziencio, a cousin of the bride, flower girl, was escorted by the ringbearer, Scott Wilson, the groom's nephew. She was attired in a short frock similar to the bridesmaids and carried a basket filled with violet petals.

Jack Hamlin served as best man. David Wilson, a brother of the groom, Kenneth Bohmstiel, Clarence Townsend and Dale and Alan Miller, both cousins of the groom, completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

The mother of the bride, Mrs. Schmidt, chose a dress of violet pleated chiffon trimmed with a wide band of lace at the hemline and wrists. Her accessories were in ivory.

Mrs. Wilson, the groom's mother, selected a beige cotton lace dress complemented with matching accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of baby orchids.

The newly married couple received guests at a reception given at the Holiday Inn in downtown St. Louis. Miss Ann Dziencio presided over the guest book.

After a wedding trip to Sarasota, Fla., Mr. and Mrs. Wilson will make their home in Norfolk, Va., where the groom is stationed on board the USS Savannah.

Both young people are 1968 graduates of Granite City High School. The former Miss Schmidt was employed in the offices of the Missouri Pacific Railroad in St. Louis.

The groom attended Central Methodist College in Fayette, Mo., prior to entering the Navy.

MRS. STUART R. WILSON, the former Miss Catherine Schmidt, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Schmidt, 2529 Grand Ave., whose wedding was Saturday in the Old Cathedral in St. Louis.

The FASTBANK auto loan

"Meet Camille," she said. "Camille is a motley example of what an automobile should be. She's dying of oil consumption, gas consumption, water consumption and her money consumption is a phenomenon. Camille has had it and so have I. If Fastbank is the answer, I'll bless the day you originated it."

That plea is from a young woman. Past owner of a ten-year-old car, who came to her Move Ahead Bank after hearing about our Fastbank Auto Loan. At the risk of seeming overly chauvinistic, we explained how Fastbank Auto Loan was so quick it was waiting for her—so easy to pay for it would overtake one full payment and prove to be truly liberating.

"When did you originate this marvel?", she asked as she pocketed our check for her new car.

I started to tell her how, one brilliant Tuesday morning, we...

"Bless Tuesday," she yelled. "Bless the Tuesday Fastbank was born."

Fastbank Auto Loan. It's your Move Ahead Bank's way of liberating you from harsh auto payments.

Also racing for a Mayors' Cup were more than 30 late model stock cars. In the 25-lap late model feature, Spalding, who was driving in both classes, jumped to an early lead and held it for the checkered flag.

Roger Drake of Decatur finished second after a wheel-to-wheel battle with Bill Myers of Rosewood Heights from the fifth lap to the checkered flag.

Charlie Northrup of Jackson-ville, a newcomer to the Tri-City Speedway, claimed fourth in the late model feature.

Sutcliff Wins Dash
In the super-sprint trophy dash, Sutcliff and Spalding bat-tled for the lead while Camfield and Amati battled for third po-sition. Sutcliff edged out Spald-ing for the victory and Cam-field finished third.

Heat winners were Spalding, Mike Johnson and Jones. Late model heat winners were My-ers, Jim Patrick and Spalding.

The afternoon's events were marred as 29-year-old super-sprint driver Lloyd Leichen-singer of Edwardsville was injured during time trials.

CHUCK AMATI of Greenfield, Tenn., was the winner of the super-sprint Mayors' Cup feature race at the Tri-City Speedway yesterday afternoon. About 45 super-sprint cars and 30 late model stock cars competed during the opening day events.

of control on the slippery clay in the first turn and struck the outside rail at about 70 miles per hour. The car flipped over the rail and literally fell to pieces in the air.

The driver was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital with a head injury and abrasions and con-susions to both forearms and his legs. He was transferred to Firmin Desloge Hospital, St. Louis, where he was in fair condition today.

Another mishap occurred in the late model feature when Pat King's car became snarled in traffic in the fourth turn, bumped several cars and slammed head on into the re-taining wall in front of the grandstand. King was unin-jured.

A large crowd huddled under blankets in the grandstands through the cold and windy evening to watch the feature races.

Action at the speedway will resume Sunday with time trials at 1:30 p.m. and racing to follow.

Assumption Net Team Takes 3-2 Win Over GCHS

Assumption High School's net-men defeated the Granite City High School Warriors 3-2 here Friday for the third straight Warrior loss.

Warrior William Christopher won second singles 7-5, 6-3, 6-4; but Rich Gaines lost first sin-gles 6-0, 6-3 and Gary Lay dropped third singles 6-2, 6-2.

Warriors Perry Dillard and Ralph Reeder won second dou-bles 6-1, 6-4; but first doubles were lost by John Burch and Gary Osborne 6-0, 8-6.

"We are getting off to a real slow start this season," Coach Dick Harmon commented. "We have new combinations this year. Since we lost our top two men from last year the boys that played doubles are now playing singles, and we have all new double teams. The weather has limited our prac-tice some, what we need is as much good practice time as we can muster."

The Warriors will try for their first victory again Wed-nesday when they travel to Col-lingville for a 4 p.m. match.

Divers Place in State 'Y' Meet

David Lindsay won third place in the boys 13 and 14 age division, and Alice Miller won fifth place in the girls 13 and 14 age division at the state YMCA diving competition Sat-urday at George Williams Col-lege.

Prior to a state meet, the two divers qualified in a dis-trict meet.

Arrival of Spring Obvious In State's Colorful Parks

(The state director of conservation fills in this week for the governor, who is on vacation, in the following special column.)

BY HENRY N. BARKHAUSEN

Spring is really here and nature is coming to life. And there's no better spring tonic than a visit to one of our state parks.

These outdoor wonderlands provide something for almost everybody.

Spring comes early to southern Illinois, where the magnolia is in full bloom.

Som the area will provide a profusion of beauty, with peach and apple blossoms dogwood and redbud dotting the landscape as far as the eye can see.

Our state parks in the area afford varied recreational facilities for camping, fishing and boating, and offer many scenic views.

For sheer beauty, a trip into the foothills of the Little Ozarks during the month of April can't be beat.

One suggestion I have is a trip to Giant City State Park, 12 miles south of Carbondale off U.S. Route 51.

The peach and apple orchards will be in bloom the week after Easter. Peach blossoms follow a week or two.

The area between Carbondale and Cobden provides the visitor with an extravaganza of beauty. Highways you should travel in this area are U.S. Route 51 and State Route 127.

While you're in Giant City stop in at the Giant City Lodge dining room and try one of the delicious family-style chicken dinners—they are special!

Rustic cabins are available for overnight visitors, but if you plan to stay overnight it is best to make reservations.

An overlook from the lodge provides a panoramic view of the hill country with the Peace Cross atop Bald Knob in the distance.

A nature center and numerous hiking trails provide exciting exercise and recreation.

Little Grass Lake, which adjoins Giant City, offers camping, boating and excellent fishing.

Another weekend excursion I would recommend during April would be to Pere Marquette State Park at Grafton in southwestern Illinois, where the Illinois River joins the mighty Mississippi.

Pere Marquette, a sprawling area along the bluffs, offers many scenic views of the Illinois countryside. The dogwood and redbud provide a backdrop of sheer beauty.

Multiple recreation facilities are available at Pere Marquette, including camping, boating, hiking and horseback riding.

The rustic lodge provides housing facilities for overnight guests and a dining room where you can enjoy another excellent family-style chicken dinner. It's home cooking at its best.

If you plan to stay overnight, you should make reservations.

There are many more scenic recreation areas in Illinois that provide excellent family outings. For instance, there is Cave-in-Rock State Park, overlooking the beautiful Ohio River.

This park is rich in early pioneer river history and contains the three tracks where the park is in the south-eastern corner of Illinois, off State Route 1.

For the angler, why not wet your line either in Lake Shelbyville, in Shelby County, or in Lake Carlyle, a few miles north of Carlyle, off State Route 127?

Fishing has been excellent in these two lakes the past month with crappie heading the list. Both lakes provide boating, camping and picnicking, and fishing.

Remember the old fashioned picnic in the parks with band, parades and burlesque quartets?

In May, the Illinois Department of Conservation special evening section will recreate this bit of nostalgia at Starved Rock State Park near Utica on May 6 and 7 at the first annual "Turn of the Century" event.

There will be much hoopla, with music, entertainment—including eight horseshow quarters—slow pitch softball games, hot air balloon races and many other events that will turn back the clock.

Make a date for a trip to famed Starved Rock Park for this special event.

Then there is always Lincoln New Salem State Park in Mendon County, 19 miles northwest of Springfield on State Route 97, a few miles south of Petersburg.

One never gets tired of visiting Lincoln's New Salem Village. It will take you back to the early 19th century and you 19th Street - two tracks, same condition as at Niedringhaus Avenue.

20th Street - same condition as the 19th Street and Niedringhaus Avenue.

22nd Street - the single track on the east side in good condition; the three tracks on the west in same condition as Niedringhaus, 19th and 20th Streets.

Various of the sidewalk crossings at the different locations need rehabilitation.

Illinois Terminal

Illinois Route 162 at 19th Street - has plank crossings proper, the south track has some planks missing and the north track has some planks splintered; both have planking at an elevation below that of the rails; both crossings have settled and should be raised to an elevation consistent with that of the roadway.

Niedringhaus Avenue - plank crossing proper in good condition.

19th Street - has blacktop crossing proper which has been beaten down by traffic; holes have developed; some form of flange-way rail or planking with music, entertainment—including eight horseshow quarters—slow pitch softball games, hot air balloon races and many other events that will turn back the clock.

Make a date for a trip to famed Starved Rock Park for this special event.

Then there is always Lincoln New Salem State Park in Mendon County, 19 miles northwest of Springfield on State Route 97, a few miles south of Petersburg.

Lutheran Anniversary Observance on July 16

Plans are shaping up for a mass Lutheran celebration in St. Louis Sunday, July 16, when 1,000 people, many from Missouri and Illinois, are expected to fill Kiel Auditorium to mark a special anniversary.

The gathering, known as the Lutheran Anniversary Festival, is set for 3 p.m. in Kiel's Convention Hall, according to Arthur Koehn, chairman of the planning committee. The festival will signal the opening of the international Lutheran Laymen's League convention, holding its 55th anniversary meeting at the Chase-Park Plaza Hotel July 16-19.

In addition to marking the League's 55th anniversary, the festival will also recognize the 125th anniversary of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod, the 40th session of the Lutheran Hour broadcasting, the 20th anniversary of the television ministry program "This is the Life" and the 30th anniversary of the Lutheran Women's Missionary League.

Car caravans and chartered buses are expected to bring people from as far away as Kansas and northern Illinois, Koehn said. Many L.L. groups are considering such plans.

1,300 in Mass Choirs About 1,300 persons will sing in mass choirs being coordinated by Prof. Robert Bergt of Concordia Seminary, St. Louis. He will direct the adult choir; Henry J. Englehart of Lutheran High South will conduct the youth choir; and Michael Field of Salem Lutheran Church, Affton, will direct the children's choir.

The choir volunteers are being recruited from 50 churches, however, the blacktop runoffs have settled and should be rebuilt.

Madison Avenue at 14th Street - plank crossing proper is at an elevation below that of the rails; either the bituminous runoffs along the edge of planking need to be bladed down or the crossing proper should be raised.

Illinois Route 3 south of Namoc Drive (near A.O. Smith) - has plank crossings proper with some of the panels missing; replaced with blacktop; crossing at an elevation below that of the rails; particularly in the northbound lane; further complicated by the track being at super elevation; to correct the condition will probably require almost complete rehabilitation.

Various of the sidewalk crossings at the different locations need rehabilitation.

Illinois Route 162 at 19th Street - plank crossing proper at an elevation below that of the rails.

Illinois Route 162 at 23rd Street - plank crossing proper has loose and splintered planking at an elevation below that of the rails; missing planks have been replaced with blacktop fill which is humped up.

In addition, the approaches have humped up and should be bladed down.

Illinois Route 162 at 23rd Street - has plank crossing proper with the planks splintered; several of the panels are severely below the rails; there are holes along the planking.

Niedringhaus Avenue - American Steel Foundries apparently has two tracks; the west has a rail and concrete crossing proper which has been patched with blacktop; the east has a blacktop crossing proper; both of the crossings proper have developed holes.

19th Street - the five westerly tracks belong to American Steel Foundry and to Midland Crossing; the two westerly one are in very good condition; the three easterly ones can be upgraded by use of a hot mix matching, two of the crossings could use some kind of flange-way rail or timbers.

20th Street - the west track, belongs to American Steel Foundries; it has a blacktop crossing proper which has been beaten down; it should have provided some type of rail or timber flange-way and be patched with hot mix; could use smoother runoffs; the second track from the west belongs to the Midland Crossing Co. and has a rail and bituminous crossing proper in fairly good condition; there is a stub track between the two which is partly covered and should be removed.

The Schermer Bulletin...

What is Schermer's doing selling children's "blow"? Well, you know Schermer's are in business to save our customers money, and when we found a "blow" where we could save our customers 50% we just couldn't resist. They are going fast; if you need one or more for your kids, we have the "blow". One model is sold out already.

In this vein we have some marvelous glasses. Regular 10-ounce household tumblers that you could buy normally for 15 cents each; we're selling them by the dozen for only 69 cents. They are nicely packed; one dozen in a box, SNEE BOX. Don't ask us why. They are a bargain; that's why we bought them; that's why you should buy them, too. Only 1,000 dozen at this price; when they are gone, that's all.

We didn't know when we wrote last week's Bulletin about all the propaganda that would appear in this week's papers. We made our position clear. If you missed it, we'll repeat it; here is what appeared in our column last Monday . . .

We noticed in the paper that some chain stores are "freezing" their meat prices or are "lowering" their meat prices. If they are lowering, then they have been charging too much right along. If they are "freezing" they are saying to you that "they ain't going to do it to you anymore." In any event, HERE IS SCHERMER'S MEAT POLICY. WE ARE GOING TO CONTINUE OUR EVERYDAY LOW MEAT PRICES.

Nameoki Budgets Set at $195,326; Hearing Tonight

The Nameoki Township budget, totaling $195,326, an increase of $40,810 over that of last year, will be presented at a public hearing at 7 p.m. today at the township office.

The increase will have little effect on the new tax levy, officials pointed out, as the budget reflects new accounts not previously included, for which the township will be reimbursed from sources other than taxes.

The budgets include $29,701 for the town fund, up $30,816; $89,985 for the general assistance fund, up $10,355; and $5,600 for the municipal retirement fund, down $100.

Among new items in the town budget is $12,750 for tax collector expenses, to be reimbursed by the county, and $15,000 for engineering in the final stages of the four-township sewer program, which also is to be reimbursed.

An insurance item has been increased tentatively in case employees elect to participate in a group insurance plan, of which the township could pay a part of the premiums.

The town budget includes: Compensation of town officers, $33,666 (supervisor $1,716, town clerk $4,000, assessor $7,000, highway commissioner $7,800, board of auditors $2,250, supervisor of general assistance $3,900, deputy assessors $6,000, treasurer's salary $1,000).

Town hall expense, $12,500 (insurance and bonds $6,000; town officers expense, $7,375); collector's fund, $12,750 (collector's salary $6,000, deputy collector $6,750); auditing $2,000; mosquito abatement, $3,000; rabies control, $3,000; town inspector, $2,600; and engineering services $15,000.

The general assistance fund includes home relief, $49,000 (insurance and bonds $6,000; food $24,000, rent $7,000, fuel $700, light and gas $1,500; clothing $500, medical care $15,000; transportation $300; hospitalization, $24,200; transient cases $3,000; burial, $700; and administration, $13,855).

The town board last month approved road and bridge funds totaling $118,000, a reduction of $6,330.

Public Interest Can Be the Victim When Emotions Get Ahead of Facts on an Issue

It is inevitable that emotions as well as intellectual influence public opinions and actions to a degree.

Nevertheless, it is disconcerting to see efforts to so inflame passions against further development of Madison County that specific facts may become almost irrelevant by the time decisions are to be made. The truth, the actual facts, must be allowed to prevail.

If members of the Madison County governing board can remain fully objective, it will be a great tribute to their courage and their sense of fair play. They are being barraged and pressured to block construction, particularly in the area between Illinois Routes 111 and 157. One of them already has publicly "caved in" to the "will of the people," despite the fact that the opposition may not be as much of a groundswell as it is purported to be.

It is being widely said that the Granite City School District has taken a stand against further Chouteau Township development, but this is not true.

It is being contended that the Granite City Council intervened to oppose rezoning for an unincorporated area project, but this is not so. It urged caution and orderliness.

Madison County Central Democratic opposition has been reported, but this is not the official Central Committee of the county party; it is a much smaller group in a "central" area geographically.

It is being said that development opposition really stems from a "taxpayers' revolt," rather than from the concerns of environmentalists. But the anti-development activity has not been by persons with long association with taxpayer groups. It has been by individuals active in environmental organizations.

It is being said that it is normal and appropriate and praiseworthy that a U.S. Housing and Urban Development Department administrator intervened to block a particular development plan. And yet it is highly unusual for a federal official to try to dictate how a local-level zoning issue must be decided.

It is contended that not much is at stake; that the specific development is not very important and that it is an isolated case which would not set a precedent. However, HUD Area Director John L. Wanner did in fact say in writing that "construction grant requests for development in the Riverbank Bottling Co. area (the easternmost ten miles of the 24-mile north-south, 34-mile east-west county) will not be approved by us."

In a clear effort to impose his wishes on the county, Wanner added that disregard of his wishes "in this rezoning request will impair consideration of other grant requests in the county that do not involve the American Bottling Co."

It is contended that Missouri interests are not working to subvert Illinois development. But the letter which touched off the current debate was in fact written from St. Louis.

Through the efforts of Missourians and over the protests of Illinoisans, the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council has authorized preparation of a study—much like the controversial, never-adopted Madison County Plan—under which zoning and development matters will be considered on a bi-state regional basis.

It is a fact that, on Friday, St. Louis County Supervisor Roos said that if the East-West Council receives more governmental powers, such as in the transit field, voting by East-West members should reflect the population of the areas they represent. Because of the size of St. Louis County, he has the most votes on the restructured council under his plan.

This is the same East-West Gateway Coordinating Council which reviews all development plans and all federal grant requests in the bi-state area.

This is the same Supervisor Roos who has waged such a savage anti-Illinois war in recent months in trying to prevent construction of a major new metropolitan airport at Walnut Hills, Columbia, Ill.; the same supervisor who is in line to head East-West.

Almost from the first day, the first hour, many people appear to have been voting with their minds about the environment-vs.-development question, as if both are absolutes, as if neither aspect is capable of refinement or improvement, as if the two extremes are aren't, glad that they combat will end only when one is dead.

We earnestly hope that final judgments will await full information. As the environment-minded Sierra Club says, "Opposition to blight progress, but not blind opposition to progress."

If either developers or development foes put on the blindfolds of closed minds before they have adequate knowledge, the East-West arena floor is likely to be that of the public interest.

Varied Community Service by Mr. Hundley

Quadr-Citizens mourn the death of John R. Hundley Jr., newly-retired Granite City Steel Co. vice-president for industrial relations, whose community service included the chairmanship of the local United Fund campaign and participation in Illinois state governmental study groups.

Mr. Hundley had been honored extensively for his role in achieving a 10-point agreement which succeeded in encouraging major construction projects in Southern Illinois, including a major steel mill expansion-modernization program here. He had established his own management consulting firm upon completing his duties at Granite City Steel in January.

Firecracker Ban Justified by the Hazards

The Food and Drug Administration's proposal to ban public sale of all large firecrackers seems wise.

During our childhood years there were many and instances of fatalities and disfiguring injuries due to the wide usage of firecrackers and other fireworks by individuals, including youngsters.

The toll of mutilation and death dropped sharply when more restrictions were placed on fireworks sales and families were urged to attend public pyrotechnic displays. Unfortunately, there has been a trend back toward the availability of small explosives throughout the U.S., including this region.

At least eight deaths and 41 injuries resulted from fireworks in the Chicago area in 1970, the Food and Drug Administration said Saturday.

The National Society for the Prevention of Blindness has issued a ban on the sale of fireworks but the FDA limited its ban to large firecrackers. It will become effective in 60 days unless opponents persuade the agency to change it.

The National Archives is a part of the National Archives and Records Service of the General Services Administration.

In addition to supervising records management throughout the federal government, the Archives operates 14 federal records centers throughout the U.S. for the storage and administration of noncurrent records, most of which are only temporary in value and are destroyed after stated periods of time.

The Archives is the final repository for the permanent records of the government.

The United States was the last of the great nations of the world to provide for adequate preservation and administration of its official records.

France established its Archives Nationales in 1790 and Great Britain its Public Record Office in 1838.

The archival agencies of several states in our own country have been in existence longer than the National Archives.

In 1931, when construction of the National Archives Building was begun, the U.S. Archives was already creating and accumulating records for more than 150 years.

Most records had been fairly well kept, but some had been neglected or lost.

Boxed and stored in cellars, attics, old garages and other unsuitable places, they were subject to loss by fire, theft and dampness, and many of them were not available for use.

Since the opening of the National Archives, good physical surroundings and adequate arrangement of the records have both preserved the documents and made them more usable.

The records are kept not simply because they are old but because they have enduring value.

In the National Archives are gathered the permanent records of the federal government, the operations of its military and diplomatic activities and of its domestic administration.

Director Alan A. Drazek has announced that, starting May 1, originally as Geneva state personnel code will be extended to nearly 5,500 state positions. In the past, these jobs were filled by the party in power—either Republican or Democratic.

This Week in America's History

This is one of a series on events in the history of the nation, and of the world, 200, 150 and 100 years ago:

1772—George Washington sailed for the first time to India, appointed in April to return to Bengal, where he becomes governor-general for 1773 to 1780.

During that time, British political and economic power was extended, utilizing the military strength of the British East India Company.

1822—Hobart College for men established at Geneva, N.Y., originally as Geneva College, successor to Geneva Academy, which had been founded in 1785.

It offered the first non-classical college course in the United States.

Renamed Hobart Free College in 1860, it honored its founder, the Rt. Rev. John Henry Hobart, Episcopal bishop of New York.

It became coeducational in 1908, with the formation of William Smith College created by a gift of $900,000 from William Smith, a Geneva businessman.

Portugal, in this year, adopted a new constitution patterned after that of Spain.

Prince John, forced out of Portugal during the Napoleonic period and in Brazil since 1808, was invited to return as King John VI, leaving his eldest son, Dom Pedro, as regent to head the Brazilian government.

1872—Residents of Nebraska observe the first Nebraska Day celebration in the United States.

At least a million trees of Portugal were planted in Nebraska on April 10, in community celebrations.

The action stemmed from a suggestion by Gov. J. Sterling Morton, who was concerned by the shortage of trees in the state.

Kansas, Tennessee, Minnesota, Ohio, and West Virginia followed Nebraska's example between 1875 and 1883.

By 1888 the practice was adopted in 26 other states and territories, and now in all states, with the dates varying according to climatic conditions in different areas.

State Status—Running Mates Courteous, Cool

By KEN WATSON

Copley News Service

Springfield—When Illinois Democrats "kiss and make up?"

Probably not for quite a while, in the Statehouse view.

Not for more than a quarter century has the party come out of a primary in such bitter disarray. Practically no one of importance is happy with anyone else.

Around Springfield, at least, most Democrats speak about as disparagingly about the party's candidate for governor, Daniel Walker, as they do the Republican Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie.

The other day a pro-Walker prankster printed his name in bright red letters on a black and white sign on the Capitol drive that designates the parking place for the governor's official car.

Ogilvie was in Rome visiting Pope Paul at the time the incident occurred. But the prank was not received with humor at the Statehouse. Democrats as well as Republicans considered the incident in poor taste and some commented that it was a typical byproduct of the Walker campaign.

It is a matter for debate whether the Downstate friends of Lt. Gov. Paul Simon will ever forgive or forget the type of campaign waged against him by Walker.

Besides wooing the unhappy Simon forces downstate, Walker has yet to make his peace with Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley despite some public overtures by the mayor. Because of the way Walker lambasted Daley and his machine throughout the primary, many Statehouse politicians are skeptical that the two will ever work well together.

Then there is U.S. Sen. Adlai E. Stevenson III, who has shown a remarkable lack of enthusiasm for the upset victory of Walker, who once served as a top aide to Stevenson's 1970 senatorial campaign.

He sent a lukewarm telegram of congratulations to Simons, generally let the matter rest there. Stevenson had been strong for Simons.

In Washington, far from Democratic U.S. Sen. Paul H. Douglas expressed shock at the Simons defeat. If the reversed sense had anything favorable to say about Walker, it wasn't reported.

The whole liberal wing of the Illinois Democratic party as typified by Stevenson and Douglas was firmly behind Simons.

There is an obvious political distrust of Walker among the veteran liberals and his campaign tactics against Simons.

The Walker nomination has added to the troubles of Democratic U.S. Senatorial candidate Roman C. Fucini, who was counting on the Simons popularity and influence to help him overcome recognized difficulties Downstate.

Walker, a Chicago area product, will be an added drag for the party as far as geographical factors are concerned.

Standing alone, calm and unruffled amid all the primary debris, is State Auditor Michael J. Howlett. Unopposed in the primary, the ways savvy Howlett carefully stayed out of the brink-throws in the governor and Cook County state's attorney races.

As far as Walker is concerned, it is believed that Howlett will be courteous and correct but not much more.

Chance to View Documents Tracing U. S. History a Moving Experience

It was a thrill this spring to be able to view, and to have my own view, the Declaration of Independence, the United States Constitution and the Bill of Rights—America's charters of freedom.

This privilege is afforded to all at the National Archives Building, situated between Seventh and Ninth Streets, Northwest, and between the famous thoroughfares, Pennsylvania Avenue and Constitution Avenue—part of a "federal triangle" in downtown Washington, D.C.

A visit to the nation's capital is an unforgettable experience. Each year, many thousands of people from every state and from foreign countries view the sights of the city and watch our government in action.

In the National Archives Building, visitors have the opportunity to see the most important records of the nation. The Declaration of Independence, Constitution and Bill of Rights are parchments setting forth in flowing script the basis of our democratic institutions.

Boldly signed by men whose names are now immortal, they bear testimony to the rights that we enjoy as a free people.

The documents are on view in the Exhibition Hall of the National Archives.

Scientific measures assure preservation of the parchments, guards and mechanical devices protect them.

Sealed in bronze and glass cases filled with helium, they are screened from harmful light rays by special filters. They can be lowered at a moment's notice into a large fireproof and shock-proof safe.

In the Exhibition Hall is the "Formation of the Union," an exhibit of valuable documents important in the formation of the government from 1774 to 1790.

Among them are the Articles of Association, the Articles of Confederation and Washington's letter announcing the victory at Yorktown, the Treaty of Paris, 1783, and Washington's inaugural address of 1789.

Smaller exhibits of general or local interest are installed from time to time.

SIU-SW Receives $10,000 U. S. Grant

The Midwest region office of the National Education Program in Corrections (NEPIC), located at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern, has received a grant of $10,000 from the U. S. Office of Education's Bureau of Educational Personnel Development.

The grant is under the direction of Robert Gilland, director of the Delinquency Study and Youth Development Center. Gilland said the grant will be used to develop a teacher corps program at the University of Wisconsin, Milwaukee campus.

The SIU-SW center serves as the coordinator for the nine-state Midwest region of NEPIC and has developed staff training and programs at various state agencies involved in youth corrections.

The Wisconsin teacher corps program will be at the undergraduate level and will be the only teacher corps program in the Midwest region, Gilland said.

Annual Town Meetings Set; Some to Study Budgets

Elections of the four townships of the Quad-City area will assemble in annual town meetings tomorrow, and will find themselves deviated of much of the "grass roots" authority they once had.

Town meetings will be held during the afternoon in Venice and at night in Granite City, Nameoki and Chouteau townships.

In the past, the principal activity of the town meetings was approval of new township and road and bridge fund budgets and tax levies. Because of changes effected by the new constitution, the town elections no longer have this authority.

Approval of the budgets and levy now is made by the town board and may be made at any time after the town meetings. The town board of Venice is scheduled to act on its budgets during the annual town meeting tomorrow. The board will convene at 1:45 p.m. in the city hall at Venice to act on the road and bridge fund budgets, and then will convene the annual town meeting at 2 p.m. in which it will act on the town fund and general assistance fund budgets.

Plan Public Hearing
Chouteau township will conduct a public hearing on its town budget during the annual meeting, that will convene at 7:30 p.m. in the Sun & Fun Restaurant at Mitchell. Electors will vote on a proposal to increase the maximum tax rate for the road and bridge fund from 12.5 cents per $100 assessed valuation to 16.5 cents.

Nameoki township is to hold a public hearing on the town budget tonight during its regular board meeting. The town elections' meeting will convene at 7 p.m. Tuesday in the town hall, but the board will not act on the budgets until its regular meeting April 24.

A public hearing on the township budget will be held by Granite City township at 6 p.m. tomorrow in the city hall, followed at 7 p.m. by the annual town meeting. The town board made up of city council members, will act on the proposed budget in the council's April 17 meeting.

Levee District To Get Secondary Treatment Plans

Engineering and planning for development of secondary sewage treatment facilities at the Landsdowne plant of the East Side Levee and Sanitary District are expected to be completed soon, it was reported at a meeting of the levee board last week.

The board authorized William "Mike" Ebersold of Venice, president, to sign documents and state grants. He was planning to be done by the Horner & Shifren engineering firm of St. Louis.

Ebersold said the board of trustees has been told the district should be eligible for grants of $25 of construction cost from the federal government, and 25 to 30% of the cost from the state.

Report Oil Seepage

Also referred was a notice from the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency that oil is seeping from a storm sewer into the Nameoki drainage canal on the north side of Route 162. The district is to investigate the source of the oil and report to the state on corrective steps.

The board filed a letter from the East St. Louis law firm of Goldenbergs & Goldenbergs resigning as attorneys from the levee district.

Meanwhile, a circuit court hearing at Edwardsville was set for May 1 in condemnation proceedings filed by the district to acquire three parcels of right-of-way needed for construction of a system to drain the Doherty Slough area. The suit was filed last September. Hearings on several motions have been heard.

GRANTMASTER TIRE GUARANTEE

1. Tread Life Guarantee Against Road Hazards
We guarantee all Grantmaster tires against failures from all normal road hazards for the life of the tread with the exception of: ordinary nail punctures, fire, theft, front end mis alignment, under-inflation, over-inflation and running flat.

2. Tread Life Guarantee Against Defects
We guarantee the Grantmaster tires against all defects of material and workmanship for the life of the tread.

Basis of Adjustment: Should your Grantmaster tire require adjustment under Section 1 or 2 of the Guarantee, please return it to Grants and we will replace it by giving you a proportionate allowance for the unused tread based on the current selling price, including Federal Excise Tax.

3. Guaranteed Against Tread Wear
The original tread is guaranteed not to wear out for the number of months designated. If tread wears out during this period, the tire should be returned to Grants and we will replace it, charging the current regular selling price plus Federal Excise Tax less the following percentage allowance toward the purchase of a new tire.

Tire Guarantee	Allowance
18-27 Months	10%
28-40 Months	25%

This guarantee covers tires in passenger car service only. Passenger car tires used in commercial service reduce the guarantee period by 50%.
